

Winter 2024-2025 An Enchanting Christmas at the Gateway to the Arctic Circle

Between Lapland, the Gulf of Bothnia and the Baltic Sea, PONANT has conceived seven truly unforgettable voyages to celebrate the end-of-year festivities differently. Three brand new itineraries will explore the polar night and the Northern Lights and four departures to experience the magic of Christmas in the very heart of Scandinavian traditions.

Splendours of Polar Nights and the Northern Lights

"It's raining stars in our bed" is the title of a Scandinavian poetry collection that will become a reality on these voyages. Aboard Le Commandant Charcot nights will be even more beautiful than the days, as waiting impatiently for the start of the long polar night and special light which reigns for a few hours between sunrise and sunset. The perfect time to take advantage of it; to go on a sleigh ride (pulled by reindeer or dogs) or indulge in a little ice fishing or work out on a kayak outing. Time spent above the Arctic Circle also includes exploring the Lofoten Islands on horseback and meeting local communities like the Sami, Norwegian reindeer herders. Destinations far from the peak tourist season, for a total disconnection from the world and the chance, perhaps, to catch a glimpse of the Northern Lights.

These four voyages are designed to rediscover timeless childlike delights at the gateway to the Arctic, between warm Scandinavian culture, sleigh rides and the discovery of wilderness.
